Not illustrated. 1853 Excerpt: .into discredit, by exposing its advocacy to well-founded objections. The writer has thoroughly grasped and mastered his topic. His mind is a strong, keen, and shrewd one, well trained to enquiry and argument. His industry has been curiously extensive and exact. He brings to bear upon his subject an ample acquaintance with the cognate and related sciences, --Chemistry, Natural History, Botany, Astronomy, Physical Geography, Mineralogy, fec. Yet he hardly ever attempts more than analysis and comparison--enquiring into what Geology has actually proved, and confronting this with revealed truth; or, in his own words, distinguishes useful and interesting knowledge from idle and absurd speculations, divests scientific truths of any semblance of fable and romance, substitutes arguments based on reason and religion for theories founded upon vague and insufficient data, and elevates to its legitimate position among modern branches of knowledge a science hitherto of no good repute, on account of the irreligious purposes to which it had been perverted. His clear and manly style, and the interesting distribution of the subject, contribute much to the result, while the compact form and trifling price of the volume put it within reach of all. On the whole we thank the writer; he has done a service to the cause of science, and a charity to the souls of men. VI.--The Old Village Church, by M. A. Motler, author of the Adieu and Return. London, Dublin, aud Derby: Richardson and Son, 1853. We do not find it easy to give...
