O. , Supt. of Docs. , Congressional Sales Office, 1999. OCLC Number: (OCoLC)42077372 Subject: Retirement income -- United States. Excerpt: . . . 12 retirement age for powerful political constituencies. It is a one-size-fits-all scheme that exacts a price in human happiness. The USA system, on the other hand, allows for individual preferences to be trans-lated into individual decisions that will produce the desired outcome. In the branch offices of many AFPs there are user-friendly computer terminals that permit the worker to calculate the expected value of his future retirement benefits, based on the money in his account, and the year in which he wishes to retire. Alternatively, the worker can specify the retirement benefits he hopes to receive and ask the com-puter how much he must deposit each month if he wants to retire at a given age. Once he gets the answer, he simply asks his employer to withdraw that new per-centage from his salary. Of course, he can adjust that figure as time goes on, de-pending on the actual yield of his retirement fund or the changes in the life expect-ancy of his age group. The bottom line is that a worker can determine his desired benefits and retirement age in the same way one can order a tailor-made suit. As noted above, worker contributions are deductible for income tax purposes. The return on the USA is also tax-free. Upon retirement, when funds are withdrawn, taxes are paid according to the income tax bracket at that moment. The Chilean USA system includes both private and public sector employees. The only ones excluded are members of...
